Description

I know this is not really the place to report this. But I have tried all other avenues and have had no success.

I have tried multiple times to subscribe to ruby-core mailing list both via the web form on the website and manually via email to the controller address. I have also tried to contact the mailing list administrator. None of these have produced any response.

Yehuda recently posted to the list and I would like to make a reply, but cannot. Could some please address this?

Thanks.
